WOULD BE A GOOD FIGHT

Ketchel and Langford Are Capable of a Mighty Contest.

The Ketchel-Langford fight talk is still flying thick and fast, and if boosting and speech making can do any good the middleweights should come together shortly and settle their long standing differences. We don't hear much about Nevada now, but since Promoter Tex Hall has ceased effusing, Philadelphia has fallen into line with a $25,000 offer for a six round set. Not to be outdone, Pittsburgh reported on the job last night the promoters of the Smokey City expressing their willingness to hang up the modest sum of $15,000. Now, what is going to happen?

Willus Britt is calmly sitting around and thinking them all over. Willus is as wise a manager as ever handled a fighter, and he knows full well the value of national and international advertising. The fight is getting both. There is no question about this. The fans are smoked up over it wherever the game of fistfists is known. Britt is awaiting the best opportunity to get the most money.

Although the majority of the fans do not place much confidence in that Nevada offer, still Britt and his fighting machine are confident that it will come through. Britt is so sure of it that he says that he will not consider any other offer for the time being, at least. This is rather a strong line of talk when there are so many bright opportunities.

Does Langford fear Ketchel? This is the question that is being asked on many sides, and there are many who now fall for it, since the dusky Boston boy made his demand for more money in Nevada. Months ago Langford was willing to fight Ketchel for a mere pittance, but when the fight seems to be well under way, he balks at the last minute.

Everybody realizes that Ketchel was far from being the real Michigan lion when he went against Papke on July 5. He is capable of putting up a far better fight than he did, and it is the general opinion of the level headed fans that he is Papke's master at any stage of the game. First of all, he has the heart, something that is lacking in the German boxer.

Ketchel must be more careful or he will be caught napping. If he ever steps into the ring with Langford in the same shape as he was when he met Papke it will be good night. Ketchel must be in his very best form to beat Smokey Sam, for anybody who knows boxing will readily admit that he is one of the toughest men that the modern ring has produced.

Papke has fallen from public favor because of that miserable showing which he made against Flynn in Los Angeles last Wednesday evening. He had one grand opportunity there to knock his man out, and this, coming on top of his go with Ketchel, would have boosted him high in the sky of pugdom. But the heart was not there and he lost out. He's far from being a champion.

The heart is the first thing to be considered in a fighter. Where would Nelson be without it? What a Darby Papke would be with the heart of that Battler in his breast? But you can't change hearts, and therefore Papke will never be the fighter he should be.

On the heart, and this is why the fight is so bright.

unguarded moment, Hutton became seized with a strong desire to leave the hospital, and not being able to escape through his door and down the stairs, he raised the window in his room and jumped out. His room was directly over the front porch, and in falling he struck a post. He alighted on the lawn in the front yard, but the distance from the window to the ground was so great that he was rendered unconscious when he struck and was otherwise injured. His legs were badly bruised and it is feared that he may be injured internally. He was picked up and returned to his room and a close watch will be kept over him until he has fully recovered. Hutton is 25 years old and lives in Bingham.

MRS. HORNE SCORES HIT AT EXPOSITION

Salt Lake, July 19.—Mrs. Alice M. Horne has returned from Seattle where she has attended the biennial council of women as proxy for the president of the National Relief society, Mrs. Bathsheba Smith. Mrs. Horne was invited to give an address and chose for her subject, "The Need of Art in Our National Education." She was applauded throughout and at its close was warmly congratulated by many of the delegates, among them Mrs. Rachel Avery, Rev. Anna Shaw, May Wright Sewall and others. A number of ladies present from Tacoma invited her to come to their city and deliver her address, believing it would influence legislation in the line of her ideas.

Frau Stritt, who was in the city on Tuesday, spoke of Mrs. Horne both at the banquet and privately in the most complimentary terms, having met Mrs. Horne in Berlin at the time of the quinquennial meeting of the international there. "She is both beautiful and talented," said Frau Stritt, "and we thought it a wonder for so young a woman to have been in your parliament" (laughter). Frau Stritt is president of the National Council of Women of Germany and vice-president of the International Council of Women. In a brief talk held with her she expressed her pleasure at meeting again with the Utah women who were present at the Berlin meeting, and told of the general interest taken in them by the many other representatives there.

Mrs. C. S. Wilcox, who accompanied Mrs. Horne as delegate from the Relief society also made a most favorable impression with her report of the society, giving her talk without notes and receiving many compliments. Both ladies went to Vancouver and were invited to attend the banquet given there at the Empress hotel for the body of delegates from the international council.

Dr. and Mrs. Wilcox are on a tour through British Columbia while Mr. and Mrs. Horne returned home.

GOVERNOR OFFERS REWARD.

Salt Lake, July 19.—This morning Governor Spry offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of the murderers who robbed and murdered John Jarvie, who was killed in his hut at Bridgeport, Utah county, on July 6.

Pror. James E. Talmage and County Attorney Peter Hanson of Utah county, are interested in the matter and each wrote to Governor Spry asking that a reward be offered for the apprehension of the murderers. The officers have a clue which they hope will lead to the arrest of the criminals. Two men who were known to have left Rock Springs on the day before the murder were seen in the vicinity of the hut occupied by Jarvie, and were followed by a trail of blood to the river and the two men were followed some distance by two sons of the murdered man.

DARMER TO CAPTAIN THE "AMERICAN" CAMPAIGN

Salt Lake, July 19.—J. E. Darmer has been finally chosen to captain the forces of the so-called "American" party in the city elections next fall. Mr. Darmer has practically decided to take the chairmanship and is already beginning to consider the question of organization.

After the exceedingly poor organization of last fall, when J. E. McGinty was chairman, the party leaders turned to Mr. Darmer, who has been twice chairman and successfully organized the workers on both occasions, in the hope that his well known luck would pull them through.

NATHAN SEGIL ROBBED OF HIS DIAMOND STUD

He Catches George Murray, Whom He Says Got the Valuable Stone.

Salt Lake, July 19.—Nathan Segil, proprietor of a jewelry store at 55 East Third South street, was robbed of a diamond stud valued at $125, while boarding the Salt Lake & Ogden train, which left Lagoon at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. Mr. Segil captured George Murray, whom he claims stole the diamond. Murray was arrested for the same sort of work during the visit of the Elks, but was later released on account of insufficiency of evidence.

FIND MARRIAGE TO BE FAILURE.

Wives and Husbands Appeal to Court For Relief From Marital Troubles.

Salt Lake, July 20.—Oscar D. Brown, clerk in the United States postoffice in Salt Lake, is charged by his wife, Rosetta Brown, with having refused to support her, and when called upon to do so, having replied in language, abusive, vulgar, profane and indecent. Mrs. Brown filed her suit for divorce yesterday, asking for the custody of her daughter, not yet of age, $65 per month alimony, $100 attorney's fees and costs.

She asserts that they were married Oct. 2, 1887, at McCook, Neb., and have one child. On June 18 last, she says, he left their home, refusing any further support, and using bad language when asked to contribute. She says, furthermore, that he is well able to support his family and to pay alimony. She fixes the amount needed to support herself and daughter in their social position at $65 a month, and says that he receives $150 a month as clerk for the government. She owns securities worth $4,000, and real estate in Wyoming which he inherited amounting to $8,000.

The troubles of the Pinchin family now being aired in the district court have reached the reply stage. Mrs. Eliza Pinchin recently entered suit for divorce, charging desertion, and the husband, Job Pinchin, answered that he had been driven from the home and compelled to sleep in the barn. Mrs. Pinchin has now come back with a reply to the answer denying that she drove him from home or refused to cook his meals for him, as he had stated. She says that he became morose and refused to eat at the family table or talk to the family, and he started to cook his own meals. In August, 1906, he ordered her to move some hay off her own land, and threatened to get a divorce. To avoid suit, she decided one and one-half acres to him. She denies his statements to the effect that he had purchased the home with his savings, and reiterates her story that she had been compelled to support herself and children by her own labor.

Because his wife threatened to take his life, J. J. Quieter is suing for divorce from Alex C. Quieter. He says she has treated him cruelly and inhumanly, threatening to kill him on numerous occasions, the last time being on June 28 last. He asks the custody of their two children, aged 10 and 8 years, respectively, and says that they were married at Hammond, La., on Oct. 18, 1899.

Too much money spent for liquor kept James E. Clark from supporting his family, and his wife, Myrtle, says that she can no longer live with him. She has filed suit for divorce, alleging that he is an habitual drunkard, and that he has not furnished necessities for two years. She left him on April 23 last. They were married at Marshalltown, Ia., Nov. 16, 1904.

WILLARD IS CHAMPION OF THE COUNTY

Willard, July 18.—The second game of baseball between Willard and Brigham was played today on the Brigham ball grounds. The game was exceptionally close and neither side scored until the seventh. The Brigham team secured one run and the next inning Willard secured a lead by making two runs. Neither side scored after this, and Willard was victorious by the close score of 2 to 1.

Willard has also won the first game of the series by the decisive score of 8 to 1. This gives the championship of the county to Willard. The final game will probably be played in Brigham on Peach day.

FALLING ORE BUCKET SERIOUSLY INJURES WOMAN

Bingham, July 19.—Hurled to the floor of the Bingham steam laundry with terrific violence by a falling Highland Boy bucket loaded with ore, at 6 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. Victor Eckman, wife of the proprietor, lies in a serious condition at her home this evening. In some unknown way two of the buckets became unclamped on the second cable, and raced like demons down the steep incline, gathering momentum with every foot, until they struck a bucket just over the entrance of the Bingham laundry with great force. The impact was so great that the trucks of one of them were hurled from the upper cable, precipitating the bucket, ore and all, a distance of twenty-five feet to the door, where Mrs. Eckman was standing.

The contents of the bucket struck her in such a way that she was thrown to the floor. The door, although open, was badly shattered and the glass was broken in a thousand pieces. A physician was summoned, who found that she had received severe cuts on the back and the top of her head, besides being cut about the hands. Some of the smaller cuts were caused by the broken glass. She is also suffering from the nervous shock.

The buckets weigh about 300 pounds and the ore about 500 pounds, making a total weight of about 1,000 pounds. The buckets are believed to have been unclamped by boys who were stealing a ride near the snowsheds, where the cable lines are low.

The police officers immediately made a search for the boys and captured six. Many others made their escape. The prisoners were brought before Judge Frank H. Colventre this evening and temporarily placed in the Bingham jail. One of the boys who was captured suffered a broken arm last September while riding in one of the buckets, but the experience does not seem to have had a deterring effect. The police are determined to break up the practice.

MILK DESTROYED BY INSPECTORS

Large Quantity Does Not Meet Requirements and Is Thrown Into the Sewer.

Salt Lake, July 20.—Walter J. Frazier, city pure food inspector, yesterday, in company with Heber C. Smith, deputy state inspector, visited the Salt Lake & Ogden depot and disposed of a quantity of milk that did not come up to standards. Two cans from D. L. Rice of Wilcox Crossing, consigned to the Cache Valley dairy, were dumped, as also were two cans for the same concern from Fred Green of Kaysville. The first had a temperature of 76 degrees, while the ordinance says it must be as low as 55 degrees; and the latter lot had turned sour. A five-gallon can consigned to The Dairy by T. Lightfoot of Kaysville, showed a temperature of 85 degrees, and the inspectors made short work of this.

The pure food inspector is not confining his activities alone to the depot, but is also preparing an energetic campaign against some abuses which exist in the Salt Lake restaurants. He has prepared a scoring system by which a record will be kept of conditions at each restaurant, and a good average percentage will be required. This will be kept on file and the reports published from time to time. Refrigerators, cleanliness, plumbing, general equipment and sanitary conveniences will all be considered in the scoring on the cards.

CARSTENSEN NAMED TO SUCCEED FREED

Salt Lake, July 20.—A. B. Carstensen, a well known young business man of this city, was on Monday named by Governor William Spry as a director of the Utah State Fair association, to succeed Lester D. Freed, who resigned recently because of differences with President J. G. McDonald.

MINING NEWS

SAM NEWHOUSE PRAISES WEST AT BUFFALO, N. Y.

Salt Lake City, July 19.—Buffalo entertained today one of the biggest mining men in the United States, says the Buffalo Commercial. Samuel Newhouse, who registered at the Hotel Iroquois in the morning, stopped off for the day on his way from New York back west. He gives his residence as Salt Lake City, that being his legal residence, but he spends his time all through the great west.

Mr. Newhouse was the pioneer copper miner of Utah and now he has mining interests in every state in the west, although Utah is still the field of his greatest activities. That the world has used Mr. Newhouse kindly since he was a struggling reporter in the oil fields of Pennsylvania is evidenced by the fact that he has just completed the construction in Salt Lake City of two of the most prominent corners in the business district of that city, and that he is now erecting an eleven-story hotel, which will have between 400 and 500 rooms. These are but three of the many investments which Mr. Newhouse has in the west aside from his mining interests.

Mr. Newhouse came to Buffalo to discuss a matter of business with a Buffalonian, which business would be of no interest to the public, he said. "How are conditions in the west?" "Conditions could not be better," replied Mr. Newhouse. "From a country of mortgaged homes the west has become a country with homes all cleared of mortgages, and the owners of which have big balances in the banks."

"How as to mining matters?" "Business in minerals is excellent. When you find conditions growing better in iron and steel, then you may know that conditions are prosperous as regards the precious metals. It is the invariable rule, too, that copper, zinc and lead follow the lines of prosperity of iron and steel."

Thirty years ago Mr. Newhouse went west and wrote up the Rio Grande railroad for the Philadelphia Times. He liked the country and remained there.

His fortune was made when he discovered copper in Utah and began mining it.

ARIZONA LEADS IN RED METAL PRODUCTION

Salt Lake City, July 19.—Arizona still maintains its supremacy as the leading copper producer among the states and territories, with an estimated production for June of 27,867,000 pounds, an increase of 190,000 pounds compared with May. Of the above output the Bisbee camp contributed 13,400,000 pounds, while the Chifton-Morenci camp contributed 6,288,000 pounds. The Boston News Bureau estimates the production of copper in Arizona in June, based on smelter returns, in detail, as follows:

| | Pounds. |
|--|-----------|
| Copper Queen | 9,000,000 |
| Calumet and Arizona and Superior and Pittsburg | 4,400,000 |
| Arizona Copper | 2,000,000 |
| United Verde | 2,100,000 |
| Old Dominion | 3,300,000 |
| Shannon | 1,388,000 |
| Imperial | 1,100,000 |
| Miscellaneous | 600,000 |

The output of the Copper Queen company includes the treatment of concentrates from the Moctezuma Copper company at Nacozari, which is controlled by the Phelps-Dodge people, so that the Copper Queen output is not strictly Arizona copper, though that territory is credited with the Nacozari output. During June, Arizona produced 2,850,000 pounds more than Butte, and led the Lake Superior district by 7,300,000 pounds.

ELLA GINGLES IS ACQUITTED BY JURY

Chicago, July 19.—Ella Gingles was cleared tonight from the charge of stealing lace, but the story she told on the witness stand of being a "white slave" victim was denounced as untrue by the jury that freed her.

The verdict said: "We, the jury, find the defendant not guilty, and we further find that the charges made against Miss Agnes Barrette, alias 'White Slave', and against the Gingles girl, who was on trial for stealing lace from Miss Barrette, was that Miss Barrette and others had attacked and mistreated her twice last winter and that the object was an attempt to sell her to an unnamed man in French Lick Springs, Ind."

"Now, be a good girl, Ella. Go back to your home in Ireland and be a good girl," was the advice given the defendant by Juror Thomas Mackey as she shook hands with him after the verdict had been read.

CONSUMER WILL BE IMPOSED ON

Washington, July 19.—Speaker Cannon and Representative Dwight of New York, Republican "whip" of the house, had a conference with President Taft today regarding the votes the president has undertaken to deliver to the conferees on the tariff bill in support of the sort of measure the president desires—deferring revision on nearly every schedule of the Dingley law, and a small duty, if any, on raw material.

"It's funny," said Speaker Cannon, "how much ignorance there is about the tariff. I bought this old gray suit three years ago—a homespun—from a big importing house in Chicago. Now, with labor employed in this country at full time and higher wages than ever before, and with the tariff on woollens not changed one iota, we get a circular saying that 'Owing to an increase in the tariff the price of these clothes will have to be advanced 25 per cent.'"

The speaker intimated that, imposing on the lack of exact information about the tariff on the part of the public, certain dealers and manufacturers were going to raise prices regardless of anything congress could do. The fact that there has been a long and involved discussion of the tariff and much general talk about "in-increases all along the line," he suggested, will give the opportunity to put up the prices to "the ultimate consumer."

"A bill will be reported by the conferees and passed by Republican votes. It will not be objectionable to the president, either," said Mr. Dwight, who, more than anyone else knows where the votes to pass the bill in the house are to be delivered. The president admits no doubt of votes of the house to pass such a measure, as the conferees have promised to produce, providing he would see to the passage of the bill. The attitude of the senate still gives him concern, it is said, but he is hopeful that, even there, the members will be willing to put matters to a vote without long filibustering or debate. Free riders seem the principal subject of worry at the White House, but even this difficulty is expected to be smoothed over by some sort of a compromise, or perhaps the imposition of a nominal duty.
